DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 16 and 17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Wood (US 6518224 B2).

Wood teaches drilling fluids which comprise crumb rubber within the scope of the size of the particles of the present invention, and within similar amounts (see claims and column 5, lines 41-43). The crumb rubber particles may be used in both oil based and water based fluids, and may comprise other fluid loss agents (column 5, lines 26-28 and lines 46-52).

3. Claims 2-5, 7-14 and 18-21 are allowable over the art of record.
4. Applicant's amendment and remarks have been considered but are only deemed partially persuasive. Applicant's arguments with regard to the present crumb rubber material being both oil and water wettable is deemed to be persuasive over the prior art of Woods. Claims 16 and 17 do not contain any distinguishing features from Woods, and thus the rejection of these claims are maintained.
5. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
